

Domestic & family violence

On this page

- Important information
- Opt out info

Important information

For more information tailored to workers in, or victims of, domestic or family violence, please see the following resources.

Opt out info

AusAlerts do not use address or phone number information, and therefore cannot be directly opted-out.

AusAlerts are not sent from a phone number, like an SMS, and therefore cannot be blocked.

To avoid receiving the <AusAlert National Test>, we recommend to switch off your device, or enable aeroplane mode, before the following times:

Canberra, Sydney, Melbourne, Brisbane, Hobart – AEST (UTC+10:00)
6:00pm Monday 27 July 2026

Adelaide, Darwin – ACST (UTC+9:30)
5:30pm Monday 27 July 2026

Perth – AWST (UTC+8:00)
4:00pm Monday 27 July 2026

You may wish to set a reminder on your device to switch off, or to aeroplane mode, before the AusAlert National Test in your timezone.

Related resources

All resources

Poster

AusAlert for people experiencing domestic & family violence

How AusAlert is working to keep Australians safe from disasters.

PDF 2.1 MB

Factsheet

AusAlert for people experiencing domestic & family violence

Find out about alert levels and what you should do if you get an alert.

PDF 2.1 MB

Social tile

Social tile title 1080x1350

Share to your social channels for people in your community...

PNG 444 KB

Social tile

Social tile title 1080x1350

Share to your social channels for people in your community...

JPG 221 KB

Easy Read

About AusAlert

How AusAlert is working to keep Australians safe from disasters.

PDF 2.1 MB 